

BECKER SWAYED BACK TO GOD BY NEWMAN'S WORD

Regains His Calmness as Priest Quotes Cardinal
on Return of Religion.

AGAIN IS STEELED TO FATE IN CHAIR

Talks with Wife and Prison
Chaplain, Shows Interest in War and Ball Game.

All unconsciously Charles Becker, remembrance of all religious faith a few nights ago, is coming around to Cardinal Newman's principle that a man's religion grips him hardest when he is face to face with the biggest crisis of his life. He has so far recovered from the passion of rage on Thursday night that he has talked again with Father Caglin about spiritual matters.

There is no use to mince matters, Father Caglin told Becker. Whether he was innocent or not, the courts had decreed that he must die, and there was only one thing to do—to get ready. "Perhaps I've lost my faith," said Becker, according to a person who knows the exact words of the conversation.

"No, you've not lost your faith," replied Father Caglin. "You are coming to Cardinal Newman's distinction between national and real sin, and that is a matter of faith."

Becker did not comment on the priest's interpretation of his spiritual state, but his friends say he could not fail to grasp its significance.

Regains His Calmness.

Becker steadily he is regaining his composure up in the death house of the city. He is recovering from the effects of that paroxysm of rage which wrecked his mind and body and made him feel like a man who had been struck by lightning. It was a great relief when he came for her Sunday afternoon visit yesterday.

In spite of occasional references to his own and to the death of the court of appeals, the ex-politician is approaching gradually that normal stability which has been so strengthening to other inmates of the death house in the last two years.

Becker has helped others to steel themselves for the chair. Now apparently he realizes more deeply than it is possible to appreciate that it is Becker himself who must "buck up." And persons who have had an opportunity to observe him since the volcanic interview with his wife and Martin T. Manton on Thursday night say he will continue to disguise his disappointment under sober, rational actions on those days that are left to him are counted off.

It is true that he flew into a terrible passion of rage when he first heard of his sentence. But in the days that followed there was an element of fear. It was the overwhelming shock of surprise, the cruel thrust of reality that to Becker had almost seemed impossible, that unheralded the man.

Confidence Got Shock.

Becker's confidence was a favorable decision from the court of appeals that he had made preparations to leave his cell. He had given away a few of his trinkets, and had even discussed the possibility of a prayer book that he had brought with him to the court.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

LADEW HOME DESTROYED

The Box, in Ruins at Brookville, Will Be Rebuilt.

Brookville, Long Island, May 30.—The Box, the home of Harvey S. Ladew, a leather manufacturer, was destroyed by fire early this morning.

LEG BROKEN. HE SMILES

Refuses to Accept Aid—Splintered Limb Was Wound.

Winsted, Conn., May 30.—Alvin W. Holmes, a banker, was driving his automobile in Waterbury Avenue this evening when he collided with a motor vehicle operated by Joseph Duke at Hillside Avenue. The motor vehicle was wrecked.

3,000,000 JEWS

LAUD WILSON'S ACTS

Give Thanks for Policy in Crisis—Debate Over Hebrew Congress Plan.

Almost three million Jews were represented when the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America assembled in convention in this city yesterday to express thanks to President Wilson for his wise policy in the recent international crisis and to consider whether there should be a Hebrew National Congress.

The question was debated all day at the convention headquarters, the Harmon Hebrew Institute Building, 132 East 11th Street. The purpose of the convention would be to look after the interests of persons of the Jewish faith in the European war zone. The same matter will again be taken up when the delegates reconvene tomorrow at the Keshub, or Jewish Community of New York, struggled over the question at a special convention after the first convention on April 23 had been productive of no definite result.

Albert Lucas, secretary of the union, brought up the question in a motion yesterday that it was quite possible such a congress would be held, it would be for the best interests of Judaism to unite with the other Hebrews in this country in taking a stand against the war. The speaker, who was referred to the committee on resolutions, who are to place it before the delegates for a vote this morning.

The following message of loyalty was sent to President Wilson:

"The Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America, representing the vast majority of the followers of Judaism in this country, and in the desire to express to you our deep appreciation of your efforts to safeguard the rights of our citizens and to preserve the peace of our country, we recognize your devotion to the noblest sentiments of humanity and call upon the Most High to bless and preserve you through these perilous times."

In his report Dr. Bernard Brachman, president of the union, lauded the policy of the central committee for the relief of the Jews, which, in cooperation with the American Jewish Relief Committee, of which Dr. Brachman is president, has rendered much assistance to Jewish war sufferers.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

Becker's special interests are beginning to appear now that he is more composed. He is a long proponent of the "King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" theory, and has been reading a book called "The King, the Kaiser, and the Pope" by John Redmond.

NEW YORK STATE BUILDING AT SAN FRANCISCO'S PANAMA FAIR.

'HERETICS,' CRIES PASTOR TO UNION

Presbyterian War on Seminary Starts Now, Says Dr. Matthews.

San Francisco, May 30.—The New York State Building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to-morrow. Governor Whitman and his staff, with several members of the Legislature, will arrive in the morning, and from that moment Empire festivities are on.

FAIR AWAITS WHITMAN AS N. Y. WEEK BEGINS

Round of Festivities Planned for Governor and Party. Culminating in State Day Exercises and a Reception and Ball in His Honor.

San Francisco, May 30.—New York State Week begins at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to-morrow. Governor Whitman and his staff, with several members of the Legislature, will arrive in the morning, and from that moment Empire festivities are on.

WEAK GOVERNMENT DUE TO COLONISTS

Appraisal of State System Puts Evils at Door of Early Americans.

San Francisco, May 30.—The New York State Building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to-morrow. Governor Whitman and his staff, with several members of the Legislature, will arrive in the morning, and from that moment Empire festivities are on.

APARTMENT HOUSES PRESENT TO BRIDE

Nathan Lampert Gives Harlem Property to Daughter at Wedding.

San Francisco, May 30.—The New York State Building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to-morrow. Governor Whitman and his staff, with several members of the Legislature, will arrive in the morning, and from that moment Empire festivities are on.

PRESIDENT HALTED, OBEYS POLICEMAN

White House Car, Unrecognized, Held Up for Church Procession.

Baltimore, May 30.—Unaware that the flapping side curtains of an imposing automobile, which drove down Fulton Avenue as St. Martin's Mass procession was ending, concealed the President of the United States, a Baltimore policeman this afternoon ordered the chauffeur to make a stop at the intersection of the church services.

CARDINAL IN OLD HOME

Sleeps in Little Room He Used as Priest in St. Peter's.

Cardinal Farley, after blessing the new tower of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church in New Brighton yesterday, spent the night in St. Peter's rectory and slept in the same small room he occupied when a priest many years ago.

MASTER OF TONGUES KILLS SELF AT 21

Suitcase Maker, Night School Student and Reader, Victim of Overstudy.

Harriet Sainberg was a twenty-one-year-old suitcase maker, living at 54 Henry Street. He worked in the daytime, attended night school and read much in the late hours. He had mastered four languages—French, German, English and Hebrew. Yesterday afternoon he killed himself. The family believed he was driven to a desperate state by overstudy.

THOMAS MOORE HONORED

Gaelic Society Wreaths Poet's Bust and Sings His Songs.

One hundred members of the Gaelic Society gathered at the Fifth Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street entrance to the Scotch Church yesterday, decorated the statue with floral wreaths and held exercises in honor of the Irish bard.

AUTO KILLS BALL PLAYER

Lad Run Down Near Spot Streetcar Ran Down Boy.

While playing baseball yesterday in New York Avenue, Newark, not far from his home, Samuel Greiner, fourteen years old, of 205 Walnut Street, was struck and killed by an automobile owned and driven by Joseph George, a drygoods merchant, of 30 Ferry Street, that city.

PHILADELPHIA WATCHMAN COMMITTS SUICIDE TO END AGONY

Terribly Injured by an Automobile, W. G. Weckesser, a Private Watchman, Ended His Agony To-day by Shooting Himself.

A policeman found him dying in a pool of blood on the sidewalk. There was a powder-marked wound in Weckesser's nose and a revolver lay beneath his arm. Pieces of glass from a broken motor car lamp were scattered nearby and his clothing was marked where the car had passed over him. He died on the way to the hospital.

ACTRESS TO AID SUNDAY VICTIM

Olga Petrova, the actress, will head the program at a benefit performance at the Young Women's Christian Association of Newark, N. J., Wednesday night for Irving K. Hagen, the dramatic actor, who lost his place on "The News" because he was "in the line" at one of Billy Sunday's Pastoral meetings.

ADD FELLOWS TO PARADE TO-DAY

The Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of Greater New York will celebrate its seventy-second anniversary and meeting at the Palace Casino, 141 East 11th Street. More than 7,000 men will be in the parade, which will start at Fifth Avenue and 138th Street.

CHILD CONVICTS 9 DEPUTES IN STRIKE KILLING

Manslaughter Verdict by Jersey "Foreign" Jury After 17 Hours.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 30.—A verdict of manslaughter was returned this morning against nine of the ten deputies on trial before Supreme Court Justice Bergen here for killing Alessandro Tessitori, a striker, in the riot outside the Williams & Clark fertilizer plant in Roosevelt on January 19. John C. Smith, the tenth deputy, was acquitted after the jury had been instructed to so find.

ONE PRISONER'S WIFE IN COURT

Boy Witness Failed to Identify Man Acquitted—Judge Delays Date of Sentence.

The convicted men are James Bavier, Robert Wallace, Frederick Mullen, Frank Rick, John C. Moran, Harry Tene, William McLaughlin, John O'Mara and James D. Williams.

DELEGATES START CITIES TOUR TO-DAY

Pan-Americans Will Visit Industrial Centres as Congress Ends.

Washington, May 30.—After a breakfast at noon to-day at the country home of Senator Newlands, with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters as the host, the Washington programme of the Pan-American Financial Conference was brought to a formal close. Most of the American delegates, including virtually all of the New York financiers, left for home early this afternoon, so that tonight only those from South and Central America are left.

COMMITTEE REPORTS URGE LONG CREDITS

Agreed on Immediate Need for Establishment of Dollar Exchange.

Washington, May 30.—After a breakfast at noon to-day at the country home of Senator Newlands, with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters as the host, the Washington programme of the Pan-American Financial Conference was brought to a formal close.

CHILD CONVICTS 9 DEPUTES IN STRIKE KILLING

Manslaughter Verdict by Jersey "Foreign" Jury After 17 Hours.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 30.—A verdict of manslaughter was returned this morning against nine of the ten deputies on trial before Supreme Court Justice Bergen here for killing Alessandro Tessitori, a striker, in the riot outside the Williams & Clark fertilizer plant in Roosevelt on January 19. John C. Smith, the tenth deputy, was acquitted after the jury had been instructed to so find.

ONE PRISONER'S WIFE IN COURT

Boy Witness Failed to Identify Man Acquitted—Judge Delays Date of Sentence.

The convicted men are James Bavier, Robert Wallace, Frederick Mullen, Frank Rick, John C. Moran, Harry Tene, William McLaughlin, John O'Mara and James D. Williams.

DELEGATES START CITIES TOUR TO-DAY

Pan-Americans Will Visit Industrial Centres as Congress Ends.

Washington, May 30.—After a breakfast at noon to-day at the country home of Senator Newlands, with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters as the host, the Washington programme of the Pan-American Financial Conference was brought to a formal close.

COMMITTEE REPORTS URGE LONG CREDITS

Agreed on Immediate Need for Establishment of Dollar Exchange.

Washington, May 30.—After a breakfast at noon to-day at the country home of Senator Newlands, with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters as the host, the Washington programme of the Pan-American Financial Conference was brought to a formal close.

CHILD CONVICTS 9 DEPUTES IN STRIKE KILLING

Manslaughter Verdict by Jersey "Foreign" Jury After 17 Hours.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 30.—A verdict of manslaughter was returned this morning against nine of the ten deputies on trial before Supreme Court Justice Bergen here for killing Alessandro Tessitori, a striker, in the riot outside the Williams & Clark fertilizer plant in Roosevelt on January 19. John C. Smith, the tenth deputy, was acquitted after the jury had been instructed to so find.

ONE PRISONER'S WIFE IN COURT

Boy Witness Failed to Identify Man Acquitted—Judge Delays Date of Sentence.

The convicted men are James Bavier, Robert Wallace, Frederick Mullen, Frank Rick, John C. Moran, Harry Tene, William McLaughlin, John O'Mara and James D. Williams.

DELEGATES START CITIES TOUR TO-DAY

Pan-Americans Will Visit Industrial Centres as Congress Ends.

Washington, May 30.—After a breakfast at noon to-day at the country home of Senator Newlands, with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters as the host, the Washington programme of the Pan-American Financial Conference was brought to a formal close.

COMMITTEE REPORTS URGE LONG CREDITS

Agreed on Immediate Need for Establishment of Dollar Exchange.

Washington, May 30.—After a breakfast at noon to-day at the country home of Senator Newlands, with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters as the host, the Washington programme of the Pan-American Financial Conference was brought to a formal close.

CHILD CONVICTS 9 DEPUTES IN STRIKE KILLING

Manslaughter Verdict by Jersey "Foreign" Jury After 17 Hours.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 30.—A verdict of manslaughter was returned this morning against nine of the ten deputies on trial before Supreme Court Justice Bergen here for killing Alessandro Tessitori, a striker, in the riot outside the Williams & Clark fertilizer plant in Roosevelt on January 19. John C. Smith, the tenth deputy, was acquitted after the jury had been instructed to so find.

ONE PRISONER'S WIFE IN COURT

Boy Witness Failed to Identify Man Acquitted—Judge Delays Date of Sentence.

The convicted men are James Bavier, Robert Wallace, Frederick Mullen, Frank Rick, John C. Moran, Harry Tene, William McLaughlin, John O'Mara and James D. Williams.

DELEGATES START CITIES TOUR TO-DAY

Pan-Americans Will Visit Industrial Centres as Congress Ends.

Washington, May 30.—After a breakfast at noon to-day at the country home of Senator Newlands, with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters as the host, the Washington programme of the Pan-American Financial Conference was brought to a formal close.

COMMITTEE REPORTS URGE LONG CREDITS

Agreed on Immediate Need for Establishment of Dollar Exchange.

Washington, May 30.—After a breakfast at noon to-day at the country home of Senator Newlands, with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters as the host, the Washington programme of the Pan-American Financial Conference was brought to a formal close.

had seen the guns inside the plant. It was also brought out that the New York gave New Jersey addresses where they were sworn in for help. Justice Bergen, after hearing the jury's verdict, was not certain whether he should pronounce sentence on the nine convicted men again or not. He decided whether he would try the nine convicted men again or not. He decided whether he would try the nine convicted men again or not.

MEN REFUSE AID; GIRL IS DROWNED

Playmates Ask Help and Go Excuses as Victim Plights East River.

Becky Solomon, a twelve-year-old girl who lived at 227 East 13th Street, was whirling on roller skates about the pier at Ninth Street and the East River yesterday. Her curls were tied in ribbons which fluttered gayly as she executed the "giant circle," until one of the skates broke. Then she bobbed to the end of the pier, set down to the skate, lost her balance and fell into the water.

Rosie Miller, of 310 East 13th Street, and Bertha Wolf, of 248 East 13th Street, saw Becky skidding south and ran for help. They heard their calls for help, and the girls scrambled up to Tenth Street and urged some men to save their playmate.

"Aw, I don't want to spell my own suit," said one, and the group went away.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.

Becky, still swimming bravely, had reached Eleventh Street. Many boats were moored at the pier, but none went to her aid. The little girl was waving her red ribbon. They saw more, carefully.

"I got a cold," said another. "I might get my feet wet." "Can't swim." "I'm a sore leg."

"The girls were at Thirteenth Street, now, wearing with excuses. Glandys now on the river they could see Becky waving her red ribbon once more. And they saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon. They saw her waving her red ribbon.